VOL. 1. NO. 241 PRICE FIVE CENTS

BOUGHT AN IDEAL HOME

G. G. BERRY HAS PURCHASED
MRS. SARAH MARTIN'S FARM
NORTH OF TOWN.

THE TRACT CONTAINS 79 ACRES

Price Paid Was $70 an Acre, or a Total of $5,530—A Truly Beautiful Place, Surrounded by Other Fine Homes.

G. G. (Gaines) Berry has bought of Mrs. Sarah Martin her farm, three miles north of Sedalia, on the Longwood road. There are 79 acres in the tract, and the price paid was $70 per acre, or $5,530. Mr. Berry gets possession October 1st, but he will not move there until next March.

Gaines and his good wife have been for some time looking for good near-in property where they would have a comfortable home for their remaining years, and they have succeeded in securing one of the most desirable suburban homes surrounding Sedalia.

It is situated on one of the best pikes leading into Sedalia, and only fifteen minutes' drive to the center of town. The two-story house sets on a hill to the east of the road, and only two hundred yards from the large spring of water at the side of the road, which furnishes abundance of water for man and beast every day in the year. A large portion of the place is set to small fruit, there being two acres of seedless blackberries, and the land is of the very best.

But perhaps the surroundings had as much to do with selecting that spot for a permanent home as the place itself. Across the road to the west is the model farm and handsome country residence of Hon. W. D. Steele. To the north is the Jersey dairy farm of C. W. Curran & Sons. To the east is the large, well kept farm of Tom Major, while adjoining on the south is the ideal country home and fruit farm of Major D. M. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry are to be congratulated on securing an ideal suburban home for their declining years, and that they may be spared many years to enjoy it and extend hospitality is the wish of their many friends.

IRATE WIFE BURST IN THE DOOR

The Girl, Hoping to Escape, Leaped From the Window, Sustaining Injuries That Will Likely Result Fatally.

Caruthersville, Mo., Sept. 12.—Miss Lucy Logsdon, 24 years of age, leaped from a third story window of the Wilson hotel here yesterday when Mrs. Archibald Feaman burst open the door of her husband's room and found the young woman there.

As Miss Logsdon lay on the sidewalk fatally injured, the wife put away a revolver she held in her hand, declaring to the cowering man beside her: "It wasn't you I was after; it was the woman."

Mrs. Feaman was arrested and released on bond. Miss Logsdon's physicians say she can not recover. Her left leg was broken in two places, several ribs were fractured, and she suffered severe internal injuries.

Feaman has been separated several months from his wife. Trouble arose between them because of Mrs. Feaman's belief that her husband was too friendly with Miss Logsdon. They have been married six years.

LAWYER TOLD HIM TO GO

FURTHER IN REGARD TO CASE OF BRIBERY IN MORGAN COUNTY, MISSOURI.

A YOUNG GIRL HAD BEEN RAVISHED

Father Was Given a Sum of Money and Took Her Out of the State So She Could Not Testify Against Assailant.

It will be remembered that Circuit Judge Martin recently ordered a special grand jury in Morgan county to investigate charges of alleged misuse of money and influence to induce J. I. Blackwell and his 16-year-old daughter to leave the state to get out from the jurisdiction of the Missouri statutes, that she might not appear as a prosecuting witness against Emmett McDonald, a son of a wealthy farmer of that county, on a charge of rape, and which investigation caused five indictments to be issued, says Wednesday's Boonville Democrat.

Morgan county's jail is in the basement of the court house, and as several attempts were made by prisoners to burn themselves to liberty, the jail was abandoned and a small steel cage constructed in one corner of the court room for temporary use.

Consequently when Blackwell was finally arrested on the court's attachment he was brought to Boonville and placed in the Cooper county jail for safe keeping.

In an interview yesterday Blackwell told a Democrat reporter his side of the case. He stated that he was represented from the beginning of the trial by Attorney E. M. Carter, of Versailles and that after the case had been continued through two terms of court Attorney Carter told him the case had been dismissed by agreement, and for him to take the girl and leave the state, which he accordingly did.

He went to Kansas and had rented a farm for a year, or until the agitation had died out, when he expected to return as per his orders from his attorney.

He is 67 years old, has a very limited education and is a poor man, and says now that he is being made a fool of and is being persecuted by his supposed friends.

He says that he honestly believed the case settled, and that all his movements were guided by the direction of his counsel, Attorney Carter, and friend, Henry Cramer, a real estate agent.

Plattsburgh, Neb., Sept. 12.—A bold daylight robbery of the bank in the village of Manley, sixteen miles from here, occurred shortly before noon yesterday.

The lone robber got between $2,000 and $3,000 and escaped, but is reported surrounded in a cornfield near the town of Murdock.

The robber entered the bank while the cashier, Dish, was alone. He handed the cashier a letter, asking him to read it. It was a demand for $30,000.

When Dish looked up the robber had him covered with a revolver and threatened to shoot if the money was not instantly handed over.

Dish gave him what money was on the counter and the bandit hurried out, mounted a horse he had left at the door and escaped.

Poses from this place and Murdock pursued. The man abandoned his horse and is supposed to be hiding in a field.

KNIGHTS GIVE $500,000

EFFORT OF ARCHBISHOP GLENNON IN BEHALF OF A UNIVERSITY.

ASSESSMENT OF 5 CENTS A MONTH

Each Member of the Knights of Columbus Will Contribute That to the Great University at Washington, D. C.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 12.—Archbishop Glennon has received notice from the executive of the national association of the Knights of Columbus that the organization will endow the divinity department of the Catholic university at Washington at an outlay of $500,000.

The money will be raised by voluntary assessment, and a meeting of the councils has been called. Although the national body already has acquiesced in the undertaking, the constitution requires that the assessment be made by vote.

The society in the United States has about 200,000 members, and it is intended to declare an assessment of 5 cents each month per member. Five years has been allowed for raising the fund.

The fund will place the university on a sound financial basis. The knights two years ago gave the university $50,000 for the endowment of a chair of secular history.

The latest endowment comes as a result of the deliberations of the American hierarchy, which delegated Archbishop Glennon to lay the case before the Knights of Columbus, which he did at the national convention in Jamestown, Va., last month.

John S. Leahy, a member of the national board of directors, was one of the St. Louis delegates.

THE CASE IS DISMISSED

HAS NOT ENOUGH EVIDENCE TO CONVICT IN INCUBATOR BABY SENSATION.

SO CLAIMED COUNTY ATTORNEY

Trial of T. S. McAnany, Formerly of Kansas City, Also Stopped in Sedalia, Kas.—Mrs. Bleakley Has Filed, Is One Report.

Sedalia, Kan., Sept. 12.—An unexpected turn was taken in the incubator baby trial yesterday afternoon, when the cases against Mrs. James C. Barclay and T. S. McAnany were dismissed in the district court.

Mrs. Barclay, of Buffalo, N. Y., was accused with Thomas S. McAnany, formerly of Kansas City, with attempting to kidnap the incubator baby from its mother, Mrs. Charlotte Bleakley, of Elgin, ten days ago.

Tuesday afternoon, the county attorney, Mr. Mertz, asked that the case against both defendants be continued because of the first to had been unable from the first to get such documentary evidence and other facts as he thought would be necessary to secure a conviction.

After hearing the arguments of counsel on both sides, Judge Aikman set the case for Wednesday.

At the convening of court Mertz made another effort to get a continuance, but when it was refused he asked that the case against Mrs. Barclay be dismissed.

Shortly after this the two defendants and their attorney, accompanied by Mr. Mertz, left for Elgin, where there is a charge against them for disturbing the peace.

This case will be tried before a justice there. It is generally believed that Mertz will file new information against the woman at Elgin immediately after the trial.

It is reported here that Mrs. Bleakley has taken the child and fled from Elgin, but the story has not been verified.

HAS A BOY ON HIS HANDS

WARDEN HALL DOES NOT KNOW WHAT TO DO WITH A FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD.

JOHN STAPP MURDERED A WOMAN

Was Sentenced to Twenty-Five Years in the Penitentiary, but No Place for His Separate Confinement.

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 12.—Warden M. W. Hall, of the state penitentiary, has a prisoner which he does not know what to do with. He is John Stapp, of St. Louis, who was convicted of murder in St. Louis and sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentiary.

He was convicted of stabbing to death a woman in that city. The murder seems to have been an unprovoked one, but the boy, who is only 15 years of age, was convicted in the juvenile court of St. Louis, which court provides that prisoners convicted in that court shall not be confined with other prisoners in the penitentiary.

The warden has no place to keep him separate from the other prisoners, and he cannot comply with the law. The boy might be sent to the reform school, yet the officials there do not care to have murderers confined with boys who have been convicted of minor offenses.

Mrs. George F. Reimher, of St. Louis, sister of the prisoner, was here Tuesday trying to influence Pardon Attorney Speed Mosby to recommend a pardon. Mr. Mosby was not inclined to recommend the pardon, because the murder was unprovoked.

Judge C. Orrick Bishop, of St. Louis, wrote the pardon attorney and presented a legal argument to try to prove that the boy was not legally convicted, but this is not ground for pardon, because the courts could pass on that point.

The time for appeal is now passed, but the question of the legality of conviction could be raised on an application for a writ of habeas corpus alleging that the boy is illegally held in the institution. It is probable that this plan will be adopted and the matter tested in the courts.

CASES WILL BE DISMISSED

Missouri Pacific to Pay Cost of Sunday Train Indictments.

Prosecuting Attorney J. G. Slate will not push the indictments against the Missouri Pacific for failure to operate a Sunday train on the Bagwell branch, now that the road is operating the train, says the Jefferson City Tribune.

He has agreed with Attorneys A. M. Hough and John Cashman, of the Missouri Pacific, to dismiss the seven indictments, and the one information when the circuit court meets and the railroad company has been brought into court by proper summons.

The company will pay the costs in each of the cases. Mr. Cashman has written the prosecuting attorney that he was satisfied that the company intended to comply with the law in the first instance, but that the officials had not gotten around to it.

AN INTERVIEW WITH MR. OGLESBY.

The Kansas City Post of yesterday had the following editorial regarding the state railroad commission, and its neglect to make a thorough inspection of the track and roadbeds of the different companies in the state:

"I agree with the Post that the inspection should not be made from any ordinary private observation car. I will go further than that; I will say that we have no right to a special inspection train. The railroads could refuse us a train if they wish to, or if they thought it policy. We have just as much right to the meals they serve on the train for us as we have to the train, they go together. The railroad people who have accompanied us on inspection trips have been obliging, but I believe it would be better for a state official to be independent. The remedy lies in legislation."—From an interview with Henry Rubey Oglesby.

Just so! Here we have the railroad commissioners' side of the situation, but in Mr. Oglesby's interview from beginning to end there is not one line that explains to the people of Missouri why it is that tracks and railroad beds should be in such dangerous condition as those of the Iron Mountain and other lines of the Missouri Pacific railroad, if the board of railway and warehouse commissioners was doing its duty.

The Post denies that the remedy lies in legislation. The remedy lies with the board itself, and if it would devote more time to its duties and less time to the private affairs of the members themselves, the tracks in the state of Missouri would not be in the condition they have been portrayed in the columns of the Post.

Mr. Oglesby and the railroad and warehouse commission have been informed that the tracks upon the Lexington branch and the Warsaw branch of the Missouri Pacific are such that the lives of those who travel over them are in danger. Mr. Oglesby says they will inspect these after awhile. There are some elevators somewhere the railroad commissioners want to see, and yet here are scores of miles of railroad tracks in Missouri over which there is carried every day precious cargoes of human lives, every one of which is in serious danger. And where is Mr. Oglesby?

What is Mr. Oglesby doing in Warrensburg? Where is Mr. Knott? What is Mr. Knott doing in Hannibal? Why is it that a newspaper has to ascertain the condition of these tracks for the people? What are the railroad commissioners doing about it? What are they going to do about it? What excuse have they to offer for what they have not done about it?

Of course, as Mr. Oglesby says, "the railroad officials have always been obliging." As Mr. Oglesby says, "the railroads recognize that it is a good policy to furnish an inspection train." It has been splendid policy from the standpoint of the railroads, but it has been a dangerous policy from the standpoint of the commission and an expensive policy from the standpoint of the people themselves. The railroad commission understands now and has understood for weeks that certain railroad tracks in Missouri are in dangerous condition. It is amply equipped with powers from the people of Missouri to protect the traveling public against such dangerous roadbeds. The law and its duties are plain.

SENATOR PHILANDER C. KNOX,
The Pennsylvania Statesman Who Has Announced His Willingness to Accept the Republican Presidential Nomination.

If these railroad commissioners would spend less time at their homes and more time earning the salaries that the people of Missouri pay them, more time out on these roads, they would find that they could keep the 9,000 miles of track in Missouri in better condition than they have been able to do in palace cars, wine and dine at the railroad's expense.

The Post and the people have no patience with such public service; no excuse, no apology for such condition of affairs in Missouri as one finds along these railroad tracks, and the people of Missouri know and understand it.

All the railroad tracks of Missouri are not bad. There are thousands of miles of splendid track in this state. It is perhaps impossible to ride over every mile of it every few months, but it is not impossible to inspect the dangerous lines and to force the railroad companies to put them in proper condition. Mr. Oglesby's interview about the 9,000 miles of track, and the courtesies of the railroads and what the legislature ought to do to fools nobody. It does not change the condition of the Iron Mountain road or any other of the Missouri Pacific lines which stand today as a menace to the life and limb of every man who travels over them.

If Mr. Oglesby and his associates can find a remedy only in legislation, the people can find one that is far more effective. Unless the railroad board finds one sooner than the legislature meets, or the people vote, they will find themselves and their positions correctly understood by the people of Missouri, and a proper solution of the question from the people's standpoint at hand without the assistance of the commissioners.

DEMOCRATIC DOCTRINE.

The democratic leader of the house of representatives, Hon. John Sharp Williams, urges democrats everywhere to "emphasize the things that they are agreed upon, and forget the things that they are not agreed upon. This is sound logic. If two disputants can not agree upon the premises, they can not reason. If they do agree upon the premises, they are also most likely to agree upon the conclusion. Now, we can all agree upon the axioms and definitions of free society, which we call the principles of Jefferson, if we are really democrats.

But we look in vain for the principle of federal ownership of interstate highways among the principles of Jefferson. So also we should find in those principles no warrant for governing a people without their consent, or taxing one class for the benefit of another class, or policing weaker nations, or entangling federal authority by shifting interpretations of the constitution.

In fact, we should find in Jefferson nothing resembling the "policies" of Mr. Roosevelt, nothing like the socialistic hallucinations that some democrats are preaching. Such things, therefore, we ought to forget.

Those who will not agree upon the axioms and definitions of free society will find a more congenial lodgment in the socialistic party or its progenitor, the republican party. They can not reason with democrats, and, therefore, can never reach the same or similar conclusions as a basis of unity.

W. E. BARD DRUG CO.'S OFFER.

Smoke Five Wadsworth Bros.' Chicos and if Not Pleased Your Money Back.

"We have been recommending Wadsworth Bros.' Chicos now for about four months," said W. E. Bard, of the Bard Drug Co., "and judging from the sale we have on this brand nearly every smoker in Sedalia is today a friend of Chicos."

"There may be, however, a few readers of the Democrat-Sentinel who have not tried the Chico. If so we want them to come to our store and get five of these clear Havana filled cigars, just 25 cents worth, and we will agree that if they do not prove just what I claim for them, the best cigar for the money that was ever sold, we will give them back their price and the five cigars will not cost them a cent. We don't know how we can make a better offer than this to show how strongly we recommend Wadsworth Bros.' Chicos."

"Just put this notice in the Democrat-Sentinel and we will have the cigar department ready to sell Wadsworth Bros.' Chicos on 'your money back if not suited' plan."

PLOWBOY NOW PITCHER

"RUBE" WADDELL RAN AWAY FROM HIS HOME TO BECOME PLUG "DRUM MAJOR."

STUCK ON WEARING BIG FUR HAT

Enticed Into Circus Ball Team, Taken to Pittsburgh, He Made Windmill Out of the Big League Batsmen.

Mr. Spuhler, a Pittsburgh millowner, paid G. Edward Waddell the first money that that celebrated personage ever received, for flinging a ball and it was on the advice of the Pittsburgh broker, then a Western Pennsylvania hotel proprietor, that Waddell snuffed out an ambition to become a drum major and decided to enter professional baseball. Waddell was quite a young man in those days and worked on his father's farm outside of Butler. It was while tilling the soil that he earned the sobriquet by which he is known from Maine to Mexico. And those who nicknamed him made no mistake, for, according to Mr. Spuhler, he certainly looked the part.

Guiding the plow and handling of other agricultural implements sweetened the muscles of the farmer boy's arms to the size and hardness of pig iron ingots. With either hand he could throw a stone out of sight. It was an easy matter for him, so true was his aim, to bring down a bird on the wing with a piece of rock picked up from the ground. No batter could hit a ball which he pitched in the games between village nines, and he was finally barred from participating in such contests. Waddell's fame spread. Efforts were made by managers of the larger clubs of outside towns to land the Butler youngster, but domesticated "Rube" was afraid to venture from the old fireside. So he stuck to plowing. But one day a traveling minstrel troupe struck Butler. "Rube" witnessed the street parade. That settled him.

He ran away from home. Nothing was seen or heard of him until one morning some weeks later he marched into DuBois bedecked in a high fur hat, swinging a drum major baton at the head of the band of burnt cork barnstormers. "Rube" and his show arrived the day on which a game was played between Punxsutawney and DuBois. A large delegation of citizens of the former team accompanied their team. Betting was heavy. Excitement ran high. Spuhler, besides being a boniface, was part owner of the local team and stood to win or lose a large sum of money on the result of the game. DuBois was none too strong in the pitcher's box and as the secret leaked out Punxsutawney money along towards game time went begging. Fans in that section had heard of the "phenom" down Butler way, but had never seen him. Spuhler, however, recognized the proudly marching drum major and after the parade lost no time in seeking an audience with George Edward at the opera house.

Waddell would not listen to any proposition which would necessitate the putting aside of the fur hat for even an hour, and wanted to be on hand at the afternoon band exhibition in front of the theater. However, a twenty-dollar bill, the monthly salary of a drum major, changed Rube's views somewhat, and he consented to pitch if Spuhler would allow him to enter the game in his fighting clothes. This was agreed to and "Rube" took his position in the center of the diamond toged out in the full regalia of a drum major, to the wild delight of a packed baseball park. Nineteen Punxsutawneyites struck out and the other five who stepped to the plate failed to hit the ball outside the diamond. Then the identity of Spuhler's "find" became known. DuBois went crazy over him. That night the minstrels departed drum-majorless, for the "Rube" had been kidnapped by enthusiastic hero worshipping revelers who were painting DuBois a bright red with Punxsutawney money.

Waddell remained with Spuhler for some time after that, but no team could be found which would meet DuBois if the wonderful southpaw occupied the box. Inaction made the big boy restless. He pined for that big fur hat and gold-headed stick, and had about made up his mind to join the show again when Spuhler coaxed him to go along on a trip to Pittsburgh, where the former was acquainted with the owners of the National league club. When Spuhler and Waddell got over to Allegheny the Pirates were at morning practice. Connie Mack was catcher and in charge of the team. He and "Pink" Hawley were on the side lines trying out some new curves. The "Rube" with Spuhler, was standing near by, an interested onlooker. Finally he mustered enough courage to approach "Pink" and bashfully ask permission to "chuck a couple." Hawley handed him the ball. Without removing his coat Waddell commenced to send them into the elongated backstop's big glove with a resounding smack that could be heard all over the lot. His speed was terrific. A dozen balls had not been thrown before the other players had abandoned their practice and were semi-circled behind the stranger watching him work.

"What's your name?" asked Mack, taking off his mitt, which indicated that he had seen enough.

"Rube," was the laconic reply.

"All right, Rube," grinned Connie, "go get your dinner and come back. You may pitch against Boston this afternoon."

Since that day G. Edward Waddell has been making baseball history that surely would never have been recorded had Spuhler not prevailed upon him to cut out the drum major "bug" and take a trip to the Smokey City instead.

NO HORSE SHOW THIS YEAR

Motor Car Fad Decreases Interest in Animals.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 12.—In all probability there will be no horse show in Kansas City this year. Convention hall had been reserved for it from October 16 to 21.

"In my opinion none will be held," W. A. Rule, president of the association, said this morning. "It has taken nearly four months heretofore to arrange the show. Barely more than a month now remains and nothing of any consequence has been done. The executive committee will meet within a week, but I feel safe in saying that it will decide not to have a show."

Lack of interest is the reason assigned by Mr. Rule. Throughout the country motor cars have supplanted the horse show, he said.

MATRIMONIAL 'RECORDS'

ONE CALIFORNIA WOMAN WHO HAS HAD THIRTEEN HUSBANDS IN ALL.

BETWEEN THE AGES OF 17 AND 20

She Did All of This Business, Giving Her a Change of 'Lords' for Each Season and One to Start the Next.

Few women in any part of the civilized world could probably be found to dispute the record of Mrs. Coto, who recently lived at Santa Barbara, Cal., says Tid Bits. She claims to have had more husbands than any woman alive.

Mrs. Coto, up to the time of going to press has had thirteen husbands, and as she married them between the ages of 17 and 20, she changed them on an average with each season and had one left over with which to start the next.

Her first venture was a decidedly advantageous one from a worldly point of view, for her husband was a Russian count, who gave her wealth as well as title. In a few weeks she was disillusioned, so she divorced him to marry another titled man, only to discard him in turn. In rapid succession she married a man vaguely described as a business man, a stock breeder from Texas, a gentleman with the unenviable reputation of being one of the heaviest gamblers of his own particular town, a ranchman, a jeweler, a commercial traveler, a barber and a representative of other different callings.

The fact that wealth and comfort do not always conduce to happiness is emphasized in the case of the lady's first husband, for he was the poorest of them all, yet she has admitted that she has been happier with him than with any of the others. Most of her ex-husbands are alive, in fact, only one of them is dead.

To have been wooed and won eight times in succession surely entitles a woman to a high place among what may be called the much-married people. This lady is Mrs. Waterman-Saunders - Powers - Lindley-Godfrey-Gay-Crowther-Lepage, as, with a plethora of hyphens she might describe herself, using in turn the name of each of the husbands, whose society she has enjoyed to furnish her with her present name instead of that of Mary Johnson, with which she was born.

She was only 14 when she commenced her marrying career, so that she commenced early, though, as she is now 29, she has been a long time, compared with Mrs. Coto, in making her record. Her "love's young dream" was short lived, for she ran away with a boy of 17 and she had lived with him only three days when her family intervened and had the marriage annulled.

Two years later she met Mr. Saunders, a commercial traveler, and after a courtship lasting only two days she married him. Her case did not follow the proverbial one with a leisurely repentance following a hasty marriage, for she lived happily with him for three years when he died. She was not inconsolable, however, for not very long afterward she married a man employed on a railroad. Unfortunately, he was killed in an accident, so she bestowed her hand on a grocer.

The result, apparently, did not satisfy either of them, for the marriage was annulled in a divorce court, and she married a hotel keeper, from whom she was eventually released by the same means, as she was from his successor, who furnished her with her sixth matrimonial experience. Her seventh husband she married the day after she obtained her freedom, but he, too, went the way of his predecessors. She has just married her latest husband who may be regarded as on probation, for her view is that "it is impossible to form a correct judgment of any man until a woman has been married to him two or three weeks."

Her philosophy of life has been summed up in the characteristic phrase, "To facilitate divorce is to encourage matrimony," and she has expressed the opinion, based on the result of what every one will admit is a fairly wide experience, that "it is a mistake for women to wait for men to do all the wooing." It was through waiting while she was young and inexperienced that she fell into that error, and consequently had so many disappointments, but when she was 30 she realized that women ought to go at least part of the way to meet those pleasant advances.

Mrs. Lepage's record has been equaled in point of numbers, though broken in point of years, by Mrs. Buzzell, who married her eighth husband when she was 30, thus equaling the record with nine years to spare. Her first matrimonial experience was made at the age of 15, and, as she once naively expressed it, "things were very pleasant for a couple of years, except for an occasional spat, which, I suppose, comes into the life of every married couple"—"spat" being the recognized American word for quarrel of a lively nature.

The limit which a spat must not exceed may be judged from the fact that one night during her husband's temporary absence, she went to a party with his parents. Instead of saluting her on his return with a kiss, he proceeded to knock her down. She, therefore, returned to her parents and applied for a divorce, which she obtained—with a second husband in a little more than two years. Husband No. 2 went the way of husband No. 1 after two years, and she took No. 3, who left her in order to marry another woman when she had divorced him.

Her next experiences were with two husbands whose doings she once told a reporter "might not be just the thing for a paper to print." So she went on until she had completed her total of eight, the last of whom helped her to cultivate a little farm of a couple of hundred acres.

Whether he will be the last on the list it would be difficult to say, for at 30 a woman is sufficiently attractive to have many more matrimonial experiences if she does not lack opportunity, and the hearing which the divorce court never fails to offer to ill-treated wives.

MAN ACCUSED OF THEFT

A CLERK IN LOUISIANA IS ALLEGED TO HAVE STOLEN $100,000.00.

THIRD DEFALCATION IN SIX MONTHS

Police of Near-By Cities Are Asked to Watch for C. E. Letten, Who Has Covered His Tracks Exceedingly Well.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 12.—A $100,000 shortage was discovered yesterday in the accounts of the state tax commissioner in this city.

The police are searching for Charles E. Letten, chief clerk to State Tax Collector John Fitzpatrick, of the First district, who is charged with the defalcation.

This is the third defalcation in six months in the Louisiana tax department. The two previous shortages totalled nearly $100,000, and yesterday for the second time there is no clue to the whereabouts of the missing clerk.

A cursory examination of the books of Mr. Letten indicates a deficit of about $100,000. All the machinery of the police departments of this and surrounding states are being used to ascertain Letten's whereabouts.

He has held the position for nineteen years, and no record can be found of any bond having been required of him.

CATARRH IS CURABLE

Successful Experiments in Abating and Curing This Disease.

Catarrh is an entirely unnecessary disease and should not be tolerated for a single day now that Hyomei is so generally known and has made so many cures in Sedalia and other towns.

Until comparatively recent times catarrh was thought to be a blood disease and stomach dosing the only treatment. Modern science finally disproved this idea of the cause of catarrh, and found that it was a germ disease and, after many experiments, the remedy was decided to be Hyomei.

Hyomei medicates the air you breathe; it kills the catarrhal germs; it heals the smarting and raw membranes of the passages in the nose and throat; it cures all catarrhal troubles.

As there is life and health in the air in the mountain-tops where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams, so there is life and health in breathing Hyomei. There is no need of suffering from catarrh if the simple and natural treatment of Hyomei is used.

So sure is this prescription to cure even the worst cases of catarrh, that the W. E. Bard Drug Co. sells it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

Ionia, Sept. 11. These mornings are quite cool. We need some rain to assist the farmers to get the ground ready for wheat sowing. Rev. Bush, of Kansas City, made an interesting talk in our town last night in the interest of local option. John L. Argenbright, who has been with his brothers in Morgan county for the past two weeks, has returned. The Anderson Lumber company is erecting a new pair of six-ton pitless scales today. William Golden's new residence is nearing completion. This is the first building in our town erected with concrete blocks. Mrs. Edith Martin, of Springfield, Mo., has rented the building lately finished by George Howe, and is putting in a good stock of millinery goods. Quite a surprise was sprung on Mrs. Fannie Funk at her home three miles west of town yesterday evening. Mr. Funk and daughters managed to get Mrs. Funk away from home yesterday, and in her absence invited a number of friends to call in the evening, the event being in honor of Mrs. Funk's 50th birthday anniversary. Refreshments were served and all enjoyed themselves. Those present were: J. H. Beeler, wife and daughter, May; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Schnabel, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Helsley, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Howe, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bowling, Mrs. Florence Carpenter, Mrs. Charles Bell, Willard Howe, W. F. Neil and family, G. W. Sharp and family. A number of nice and valuable presents were left with Mrs. Funk, tokens of respect, the most valuable being a fine gold watch given by Mr. Funk.

Keep Bills.
It is well to keep every bill, paid or not, for an indefinite period. One never knows when mistakes may occur or when dishonesty may be attempted. The steel bill files are all very well, though they are not remarkable for their neatness or order, but a better way is to use a large scrap book and paste the bills in alphabetical order, according to the names of those by whom they are preferred, therein, if possible, it would be well to prepare the leaves like those of an address book, so that it would be easy to find any bill at any time. Of course, this is only a cheaper home-made substitute for a regular letter file, which is the very best thing for the purpose.

"All In" Judicially Defined.
In the case of state vs. Hennessey, 90 Pac. Rep. 221, the Nevada supreme court gives a definition of the slang phrase "all in." The question came up in connection with the admission in evidence of a dying declaration, the declarant's statement that he was "all in" being relied on to show that he was under a sense of impending death. The court said: "The expression, 'I am all in' is one frequently made use of in this western country, and when used under the circumstances in question may, we think, be taken to have meant that the speaker considered his life was practically at an end."

How the Professor Was Affected.
"There's not a particle of ventilation in this room," said the professor, suddenly stopping in his talk and looking about him. "Can you boys tell me what it does to a man to be in a room when there is no ventilation?" "I should say it filled him with hot air, professor," replied one of the daring ones.

Womanly Enough for Him.
Miss Graduate—"What is your definition of the term 'womanly woman,' father, dear?" Her Father—"A womanly woman is one who is capable of manufacturing a pie like those your grandmother used to turn out."—Stray Stories.

ROBBERS WERE FOILED

ONE WAS KILLED WHILE ABOUT TO BREAK INTO AN ILLINOIS BANK.

MASKED MEN MOUNT AND ESCAPE

The Dead Man Has Not Been Identified—Coroner Fails to Fix Blame for Death of Night Marauder.

Redmon, Ill., Sept. 12.—One of the four unidentified men who attempted to rob the Redmon bank early yesterday morning was killed in the exchange of bullets that followed the awakening of Night Watchman O. Snyder.

The band of masked robbers rode rapidly out of town, leaving their dead comrade lying upon the pavement in front of the bank window, which he had attempted to enter.

The first knowledge of the presence of the bank robbers in Redmon was gained by Night Watchman Snyder, who was awakened from his sleep by the sound of impatient horses pawing the earth and neighing at the door. Stealthily creeping to a window on the floor above the bank, Snyder raised his gun, pointed it toward the robber nearest the bank window and fired. The robber fell, shot through the heart.

Snyder's challenge was answered by a volley from the others. The fusillade lasted but a minute, as the robbers hastily remounted and galloped down the main road leading from the town. Snyder was uninjured.

A coroner's inquest held yesterday failed to fix the blame for the robber's death. The man appears to be about 25 years old. The body will be buried today in the potter's field.

Ten thousand dollars in currency was deposited in the bank vault over night.

MOST OF TRACK WAS GOOD

Few Bad Places in Missouri Pacific's Kansas Line.

Atchison, Kan., Sept. 12.—George W. Kanaval, P. J. Ryan and C. A. Ryker, members of the Kansas railroad commission, returned to Atchison last night, after having inspected the main line of the Missouri Pacific from Kansas City to the Nebraska line.

They report that they found three or four bad spots on the river line from Kansas City to Atchison, but that they were being repaired. One place was due to a recent freight derailment and another to high water in the river. Some time back between Atchison and the Nebraska line they found the roadbed in excellent condition and had no complaint to make regarding this section.

The commission left today to inspect the Central branch, a system comprising 500 miles in the northern part of the state, and belonging to the Missouri Pacific. They walked over about four miles of track in Atchison county yesterday afternoon.

SHOT BY A BARKEEPER

"HAVING IT OUT ON SIGHT" MAY RESULT IN THE DEATH OF JOSEPH JAYNE.

DRINK BILL CAUSED UGLY FEUD

The Victim Was Memphis Attorney, and Served as Adjutant During the Spanish-American War.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 12.—Joseph Jayne, grandson of former Governor Lowry and one of the best known lawyers of Tennessee, was shot, perhaps mortally, yesterday on the street by W. F. Johnson, a bartender, following a feud of long standing.

The men quarreled Tuesday night, and parted with the understanding that they would "have it out on sight." Friends patched up a truce, but Johnson says he was not notified of it, and as soon as he saw Jayne he fired a shotgun loaded with buckshot.

The trouble originated over payment for drinks. Jayne was adjutant of a Mississippi regiment in Cuba during the Spanish-American war.

The village philosopher looked unhappy. "What's the trouble?" asked the village cut-up. "Indigestion," said the philosopher. "I suppose it's the mince pie I indulged in last night." Too Early for a Statement Regarding Intentions.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 12.—Many of the Missouri country papers are printing articles and editorials eulogizing ex-Congressman W. S. Cowherd, of this city, as a candidate for governor on the democratic ticket.

The Brookfield Argus, of this week, declares that Mr. Cowherd, would, during the next few weeks, issue a statement one way or the other, "he into the race."

Mr. Cowherd refuses to confirm the statement.

"It is entirely too soon to make any statement one way or the other," he said. "I have no intention of making any formal announcement of my candidacy in the near future."

New Guinean War Canoe.
At Matupi is preserved the last of the great New Guinean war canoes. This is an immense and wonderful structure, 70 feet in length, which besides several hundred natives could carry 6½ tons of cargo upon the deck joining the canoe proper and the outrigger. At either end is a quaintly carved wooden figurehead (or tail), covered with cassowary feathers, and the immense outrigger consists of a whole palm tree, hollowed out and sharpened fore and aft.

APPEAL MADE TO UNIONS

GOMPERS TAKES ACTION TO SECURE SUPPORT FOR THE STRIKERS.

ORGANIZED LABOR TO SHELL OUT

When Hunger Comes 'Twill Be Strange if Operators Do Not Return to Work Unless They Are Provided With Food.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—An appeal to all labor unions in the country to assist financially the striking telegraphers was issued yesterday by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Criticism of the local officers for the manner in which relief funds have been distributed continued among the strikers.

They were anxious to have President Paulson, of the local union, appear on the platform at Brand's hall and make a few explanations, but he was busy in other directions and failed to appear.

Other labor unions in the city are said to be ready to assist the strikers if called upon, but they have been waiting for a committee to visit them.

Members of the national executive board say that instead of working to raise funds the local strike leaders have been preaching "class consciousness" at the daily meetings and spreading the propaganda of socialism.

Because of dissatisfaction over the payment of strike funds the telegraph companies expected a stampede of strikers, but there were few desertions.

The companies said there were a few men returned, and the strike leaders denied that there had been any break in their ranks.

MAKE THE BRIDEGROOM PAY.

Singular Marriage Custom Among the French Canadians.

A singular marriage custom prevails among the French Canadians in Quebec, says a writer in Pearson's Weekly. After the morning marriage service in the church the bridal party of caeleste or carrolle make a tour of calls upon relatives and friends during the day and then return again to church for vespers.

Before the evening dance at the bride's new home comes the supper. When the company rises from the table the bride keeps her seat and some one asks with great dignity: "Why does madam wait? Is she so soon in bad grace?"

She replies: "Somebody has stolen my slipper. I cannot walk."

Then they carry her, chair and all, into the middle of the room, while a loud knocking announces a grotesque, ragged vendor of boots and shoes. He kneels before the slipperless bride and tries on a long succession of old boots and shoes of every variety and size until at last he finds her missing shoe.

The bridegroom redeems it for a good price, which is spent in treating the company. If the bridegroom is not watchful, they steal her hat and cloak, which he redeems in the same way, and they have been known to steal the bride, for which there must be liberal pay. The event of the evening is a good jig, in which a guest volunteers to outdance the bride. If successful the visitor demands a prize from the bridegroom.

"Jack Harkalong, let go of my hand!"

In low, tense tones these words fell from the proud lips of the beautiful Myrtilla Kerueggy.

A cold perspiration broke out upon the high, broad forehead of the young man.

"What's the grouch now, my peerless marshmallow?" he demanded hoarsely. "Of what have I been guilty?"

"Jack Harkalong, let go of my hand!"

"Your words move me strangely gentle maiden, but they don't loosen my grip. Most beautiful girl, listen! Not even at your bidding is a set of phalangeal muscles, trained, developed and hardened by years of assiduous strap hanging, to be made to yield their—"

They were calling on the garret bard. "And I suppose it is essential that you poets should have wonderful imaginations?" ventured the pretty girl. "Well, I should say so," replied the poet, as he lashed off another spring sonnet. "If we didn't have wonderful imaginations we could never create the yarns we tell our creditors when they come around looking for money."

Portion of Watterson's Office Not Destroyed by First Blaze Endangered—It Is Not Known How Fire Started.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 12.—Fire, which broke out late yesterday afternoon, for a second time endangered the plants of the Courier-Journal and Times, and threatened to destroy that portion of the Courier-Journal office left intact after the fire of ten days ago.

The flames were brought under control with a loss of $25,000. The Times was forced to abandon its last edition.

The editorial rooms were rendered untenable, but the press room and composing room, although partially flooded, were used to get out the regular issue of the Courier-Journal this morning.

The origin of the fire which, like the first one, broke out on the top floor of the building, is unknown. The Courier-Journal is owned and edited by Henry M. Watterson.

BRIDE SWEEP OVERBOARD

Knocked From Yacht and Drowned While on Her Honeymoon.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Marguerite Croft, bride of John Croft, of New York, was swept overboard from a yacht in the Delaware river yesterday and drowned.

The yacht had reached the lower end of the city when a heavy storm broke and the halyards were torn loose.

The boat jibed and the boom swung around and struck Mrs. Croft, knocking her over the rail into the water. Mr. Croft plunged into the stream after her, and a small boat was launched, but the efforts to save the young woman were futile.

Croft was exhausted by his frantic effort to save his wife and was only rescued with the assistance of men on a passing schooner.

The body of Mrs. Croft has not been recovered.

NO ACCIDENTS IN NATURE.

Every Calamity, No Matter How Great, Has a Definite Beginning.

There are no accidents in nature. The avalanche that without a moment's warning rushes headlong down the mountain side is not an accident.

For years previous tiny atoms have been crystallizing, and adding their minute weight to the mass which left its base when the accumulation reached a certain point.

Neither is baldness an accident. The infinitesimally small germ which is the cause of Dandruff and Baldness, feeds silently and long before the result is seen.

The small germs which thrive on the scalp and which are the cause of Dandruff and Baldness cannot exist, however, when Newbro's Herpicide is applied.

Washington, Ind., Sept. 12.—But a few hours before he was to have claimed Anna Stone, daughter of a wealthy farmer as his wife, Homer Casey, a traveling salesman of Chicago, sent a bullet through his brain.

He spent Tuesday with Miss Stone at Bloomfield, and was returning home that night when he killed himself.

Swimming 26 strokes to the minute and maintaining a cheerful grin, he reached Heyington bridge in 25 minutes. On the bridge some religious reformer had painted in large capitals the solemn warning "After death, judgment." Whether Lamb observed or not is uncertain, but he twisted slightly as he dived and did not enter the water as cleanly as usual. At Twickenham Ferry he lunged onto the stern of the trainer's boat long enough to enable him to drink a glass of whisky and milk. After this he had to face a stiff stretch of rough water with the wind in his teeth until he reached the Chapel-street bridge, 65 feet high.

The next was a forty-foot dive from the Punt-road bridge, followed six minutes later by the Anderson-street bridge, 32 feet high. And now commenced his home-stretch—a mile and a furlong. The water was rather rough, and it lacked the buoyancy in the bends. For the first time Lamb showed signs of flagging, but as he neared Prince's bridge, the finish, crowds of people gathered on the bridge and banks and cheered him loudly. He finished his swim at 20 minutes to 3, thus taking three hours, two minutes to complete it, including the five dives. He immediately mounted the parapet of the bridge and sprang splendidly out for the last time as he took the forty-foot dive. Lamb used the side stroke all through.

It is reported that he will visit England and maybe America before long. Lamb was born in Scotland, but went to Australia when very young.

FEATS ARE PHENOMENAL

AUSTRALIAN DOES THE MONTE CRISTO AND OTHER DARING "TRICKS."

HIS NAME IS ALEXANDER LAMB

Executes With Perfect Grace His Fifty Dives and Somersaults—Reported He Will Visit England and America.

One of the most sensational divers of this or any other generation has just been in Australia, and he has put the best tricks of all previous high divers completely in the shade, says the New York Telegram. His name is Alexander Lamb and he is 25 years of age. Along with fifty of the most perilous stunts which make the spectators gasp with fear, Lamb performs the Monte Cristo feat with the utmost indifference. This latter act consists in being placed in a strong sack, with the mouth tied firmly, after which the diver jumps into the water from a height of fifty or sixty feet, cuts his way out and swims ashore. Horace P. Prescott, who saw Lamb perform, says of him: "He is a performer out of the ordinary class, who executes with perfect grace his fifty dives and somersaults, and performs with ease upward of twenty tricks in the water. Within the last four or five years Lamb has made his name. His father is the superintendent of the Richmond City baths, and having his residence there his son had access to the water all the time, and Alec, being devoid of fear, soon learned the art of swimming and diving."

"Later he built a high diving board in the baths, from which he became initiated in the art of high diving. His dives are remarkable for their shallowness. No sooner does he enter the water than he bobs up a yard or two further on; it makes no difference whether it is twenty or sixty foot dive, and his takeoff, carriage to and entrance of the water are perfect, hardly a splash being raised as he hits the brine. He has performed the daring Monte Cristo feat so often that one day he became careless and forgot to take his knife with him. His trainer became alarmed, and diving into the water found him still in the bag. Eriking him to the surface he cut him out of his trap, from which he emerged smiling, as if nothing out of the ordinary had happened."

"He had another miraculous escape when performing at Queensland. Diving from a height of 60 feet into a tank containing five feet three inches of water, he was accompanied through the air in his flight by a beam which loosened from the diving platform and it raced him for the tank. Fortunately he managed to dodge it. Not long since Lamb performed a feat which had never before been attempted. He swam seven miles down the river Yarra and on the way dived from eight bridges, the height varying from 22 to 68 feet. He made a start from a point above the Hawthorne bridge after being coated with vaseline. His first dive was from a height of 68 feet and it was done as clean as a whistle. Twenty-six minutes afterward he reached the Wallen-road bridge, where he was met by a big crowd. Then with a beautiful clean swoop, which conveyed a fine impression of muscular power under perfect adjustment, he dived from a height of 65 feet and came to the surface as soon as he struck the water."

"Swimming 26 strokes to the minute and maintaining a cheerful grin, he reached Heyington bridge in 25 minutes. On the bridge some religious reformer had painted in large capitals the solemn warning "After death, judgment." Twenty-eight years ago yesterday Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Butters, of this city, were married at Prairie City, Ia., by the Rev. Snodgrass.

Two years ago they came to Sedalia from Hutchinson, Kas., where they have many friends, with scores of Sedalians also, who will wish them the happiness of celebrating many more wedding anniversaries.

A double celebration was held by the Butters family yesterday, and in addition to celebrating their marriage anniversary, their daughter, Neva M. Butters, was married to Prof. R. J. Kessler, of Hutchinson.

BABY FOUND UNDER A PEW

Child Six Hours Old Cries Lustily and Disturbs Worship.

New York, Sept. 12.—During the services in the Church of the Most Precious Blood, at 115 Baxter street, last evening, the feeble cries of an infant were heard by a worshipper, and an investigation revealed the little wail, less than six hours old, under one of the pews.

Rev. Father Palabamizio, who was presiding, was notified, and he at once stopped the services and ordered the child to be brought to him at the altar. Lustily crying, the infant was taken to him. He baptized it Mario Lineola and sent for a policeman.

REGARDING RAILROADS

COMMISSIONER OGLESBY HAS SOMETHING TO SAY OF MISSOURI PACIFIC.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

In an interview with the Kansas City Post's staff correspondent, Mr. W. E. Williams, at Warrensburg yesterday, H. R. Oglesby, member of the board of railway and warehouse commissioners, declared that if conditions on the Lexington branch of the Missouri Pacific are as represented by the correspondent, they must be remedied as soon as possible.

Mr. Oglesby also expressed himself as practically coinciding with the Post's view on railway inspection.

He does not agree that the inspections as made at present are not of effective, but he declares that they could be made much more effective.

The commissioner offered a number of suggestions as to ways in which the conditions under which the railway commissioners work could be remedied by legislation.

"As soon as the board finishes its elevator inspection, which has been arranged for next week, it will go over the Lexington line," said Mr. Oglesby.

"If the conditions are as you represent they must be remedied as soon as possible. Speaking for myself, I will say that if the line is in such bad condition as would appear from the Post's articles, I will be in favor of compelling the Missouri Pacific to put it in good condition at once. I know that the other members of the board will take the same action.

"Such conditions as those represented by the Post should not be allowed to exist on any line. We have not inspected the Lexington line this year, but we will do it very shortly."

Return of Old-Time Conductor.

"Pat" Boughan, for a number of years a Missouri Pacific conductor out of Sedalia, but now living at Great Bend, Kas., and running from there to Hoisington, Kas., on the Missouri Pacific, is here on a visit to old-time friends.

Mr. Boughan came here from Excelsior Springs, where he spent a couple of weeks, and met Dr. W. N. Graham daily. The latter is in fine health, Pat says, and is a prime favorite with the gentler sex.

Mr. Boughan comes to Sedalia each fall to look after his property interests. There are repairs to be made yearly, he says, and he desires to superintend them personally.

His Sedalia property has long been a source of very clever revenue, and he is never happier than when making improvements for his tenants.

Home From Wyoming on a Visit.

John D. Moore, a brother of Chas. S. Moore, and a former trainman out of Sedalia, but for some time past bracking on the Union Pacific out of Laramie, Wyo., running between there and Rawlins, Wyo., is home on a visit of a few days.

"Johnnie" has been holding forth in the town where George A. Cook is city editor of the Evening Republican, and reports that the old-time Sedalia newspaper man is getting along nicely.

At the conclusion of his visit here Mr. Moore will go to the state of Nevada, where he will be employed this winter.

Harriman Beats Fish.

At a meeting of the Illinois Central directors in New York Wednesday the directors passed in an amended form the resolutions introduced some time ago by former President Fish, and which resulted in his knocking down Mr. Harahan the present president.

Mr. Fish seeks an accounting through the different department heads, and will press the matter further at another conference to be held October 16.

How About Your Gun?

Supt. N. J. Finney, of the Katy, today issued a bulletin requesting passenger conductors to prohibit passengers from carrying guns, which are not broken or in guncases, in chair cars or coaches, but to request that the weapons be placed in the baggage car.

United States soldiers and state officers are excused from this rule.

Stoner is Acting Superintendent.

Trainmaster George Stoner has been appointed acting superintendent of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas at Greenville, Tex. The appointment is only temporary.

R. J. Sullivan, the regular superintendent, has been granted leave of absence on account of his health, and he will resume his duties as soon as he can return to work.

Death of an Aged Machinist.

A. R. Marshall, one of the oldest machinists in the employ of the Missouri Pacific, died of dropsy at his home at Maplewood last Sunday, aged about 71 years.

Mr. Marshall had been employed in the Mound City for almost twenty years, and on the erection of the new shops here was transferred to this city.

He remained here about a year and one-half, during which time he was president of the local Federation of Labor.

Rock Island Trains Here.

Missouri Pacific train No. 10 and also train No. 3 were run in two sections last night, each second section being a detoured Rock Island train, caused by a mishap east of Eldon. The section of No. 3 "got stuck" on the Otterville hill, with No. 7 of the Missouri Pacific behind it, delaying the latter train one hour.

Former Sedalian Stabbed.

Information has reached this city that Frank Bruner, a former Sedalian, at which time he was employed as foreman of the Missouri Pacific machine shop, had been dangerously stabbed seven or eight times in some unknown manner in Arkansas. Details here are meager.

DEMAND CLOSED SHOP

Pressmen May Strike in Shops of the Typothetae.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 12.—As the result of action taken here yesterday by the United Typothetae of America, there is likely to be a strike of the International Pressmen's union.

The board of directors of the Pressmen's union appeared before the executive committee of the Typothetae and demanded the amendment to the agreement entered into January 1, 1907.

These amendments constituted the elimination of the open shop clause and the granting of an eight-hour day instead of nine. President Ellis, of the Typothetae, refused to accept the amendments.

The board of directors of the pressmen stated last night that the matter will be submitted immediately to a referendum vote. The directors say that a strike will be called in all probability.
